

Surface rock layers cannot be hundreds of millions of years old

Scientists have calculated that all the mountains and hills could have eroded to sea level in just 15 million years