

For one specific protein molecule of 100 amino acids long to have evolved by chance,

a mass of unsuitable proteins, forming a cube 100 billion billion light years across, would have to be created as well.